IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY
In loving remembrance of my dear father, Aurelius A. Baldwin, who passed away twelve years ago today, April 12, 1947.
One precious to my heart has gone,
The voice I loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in my home,
That never can be filled.

Little I knew that bright April morn
The sorrow that day would bring,
The end was sudden; he could not say goodbye,
To the one he loved so dear.

Faithful and honest in all his ways,
Devoted and true to the end of his days;
Loving and gentle, patient and kind,
What a wonderful memory he left behind.

He has gone to be with his Saviour,
Whom he loved and trusted so faithful;
I hope to meet him up there,
Never to part again.
—Sadly missed by his Daughter.

New Rule On Wheat Issued

A farmer who has wheat planted in excess of his 1959 acreage allotment may dispose of the extra acres until June 1, and it probably will increase his wheat allotment in the future if he does so, according to a reminder from W .D. Hix, III, of the Appomattox Agricultural Stabilization lind Conservation Committee.

A major factor in determining farm wheat allotments is the history of wheat grown previously on the farm. The farmer who complies with his allotment gets "history" credit not only for the allotment planted but also his "diverted" acres, which is the acreage held out of wheat under the allotment program. On the other hand under a new law effective this year, the farmer who produces excess wheat will usually receive history credit only for the allotment. In the past, the overproducer received his total wheat acreage as history.

The farmer who produces excess wheat in 1959 may deliver the excess to the Secretary of Agriculture or store it — on the farm under bond or in a commercial warehouse. In this way he avoids marketing quota penalties. He also gets history credit for his allotment plus diverted acres just as though he had complied with his allotment. However, the credit for diverted acres is lost in case the stored wheat is sold or used and the producer becomes liable for marketing quota penalties.

There is another type of situation in which the producer exceeds his wheat allotment but produces no marketing excess. This may occur on farms where: (1) the total wheat acreage is 1 isacres or lese; (2) the normal production of the wheat acreage is under 200 bushels; (3) the 1959 yield is so low that no excess is produced; or (4) the farm has been approved for the production of up to 30 acres af wheat for use on the farm under the feed wheat program. In those circumstances, the farmer geta credit only for the allotment, not for diverted acres.

BLOODMOBILE GETS 72 PINTS HERE

A. H. S. Instructor Finds Lesson In 1903 Mail Order Catalog

An instructor at the Appomattox High School, Charles H. Wilson, is really on the alert to capture the interest of his pupils, and to present subject matter in a fascinating way. Mr. Wilson's assignments deal principally with distribution and merchandising, salesmanship and business employment. He thought that it would be most effective to teach by allowing students to be asked one of the major mail-order firms, Sears, Robeuck Co., for use one of their "old catalogs."

This week, Mr .Wilson got his answer, by insured mail. It was the loan for careful use of a very rare 1903 Sears, Roebuck catalog.

Since its arrival, said catalog has been the object of study by Mr. Wilson's clapes. Careful handling was ordered, for such a book is a collector's item of rare value.

The 1903 Sears, Roebuck catalog went to 1088 pages, full size, with hard back binding. It even had two sheets of full color printing.

Mr. Wilson states that his pupils have found major interest far beyond the obvious difference in prices over the past half-century. Illustrated ads of the products offered reflect the fantastic advancement of the way of life in America. Pupils found this worthy of study, and were able to see the half-century trends of progress in all the infinite details of life.

It appears that instructor Wilson did a smart thing in his program of training the younger generation.

Co. Teachers Meet April 29

A house to house check was completed Monday by a team of game wardens sent in by the State Game Commission. With several contests slated for decision in the July 14 county primary election, voters have been reminded that May 2 is the deadline for the payment of capitation taxes in order to qualify for participation in the election. The law requires that capitation taxes be paid six months prior to the General Election date in November. May 2 has been designated as the final day upon which the capitation tax must be paid.

Appomattox County normally has a voting potential of around 2,500 voters. Furthermore, the county has a traditional record of "getting out the vote" in favorable comparison with other localities. It is held to be most likely that the eligible list this year will equal the normal total, since it is the year for election of county officials and thus caters to the interest of citizens in their home government.

An added incentive to qualify to vote is the possibility that some sort of a voter-expression on the controversial school integration issue may be presented in the November General Election. This possibility is tied up with proposals now awaiting action before the current special session of the General Assembly of Virginia in Richmond.

One bill before the Assembly is designed to call for an "advisory referendum" to ascertain the will of the voters of the state as to integration.

Locally, three contests are to be decided in the July primary: supervisor for the Stonewall district; for county sheriff and for county commissioner of the revenue.

NEWS REPORT FROM TOWN MAYOR

To the Citizens of
The Town and County of Appomattox:

The Town Council held its regular monthly meeting in the Town office on Monday, April 20th, at 7:30 P. M., at which time the usual order of business was transacted.

The question of loading zones was brought up and after a discussion, the majority of the Council present and voting decided to replace the loading zones that were put in approximately three weeks ago, when the meter heads were removed. The above ordinance also included instructions to be given the Town police that no parking tickets were to be issued while anyone was loading or unloading in front of a place of business. Three of the members present voted for the above ordinance. I regret all the members of the Town Council very highly, for their sincere efforts and judgement. I further realize that it is the duty of the Mayor to work hard to reach an agreement with the Council on every issue that arises. I say to all of you fine people that I have worked hard toward this end in every way that I know. I sincerely feel that my first obligation is to the citizens of the Town of Appomattox and that I should exert all my efforts to help pass legislation which will be most beneficial to the majority of the citizens of the Town and County of Appomattox. It is for the above reason that I feel that every merchant who desires a loading zone in front of his place of business should be entitled to this courtesy.

Let's everyone bear in mind the appearance of our premises and see if we can start some cleaning, which I am sure will coincide with the "Clean-Up and Paint-up" campaign which will be announced and initiated by the Garden Club, and the Town Council in the very near future.

I am a candidate for the office of Mayor subject to the election to be held on June 9th, and I would deeply appreciate your vote and support. I pledge to you my sincere efforts to carry out the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Your counsel and advice on all public matters is welcomed at all times.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr.,
Mayor, Town of Appomattox.
